

Health & Safety In Our Bar and Restaurant

As Scotland moves out of the levels system, there are still some health & safety and hygiene standards in place to ensure the safety of our staff and customers as a result of Covid-19.

- All staff members have been trained on essential hygiene, social distancing and the risks involved in the operation of a Covid safe workplace;
- Staff will be washing hands at least every twenty minutes;
- Any staff member exhibiting symptoms of Covid-19 will be isolated;
- Should you display any symptoms of Covid-19 prior to your visit to The Arch Inn you are respectfully requested to refrain from visiting and to contact the your local health service to arrange a test;
- Face coverings must be worn at all times by everyone aged 12 and over, unless seated;
- All adult customers will be asked to check in & out using their mobile phones and scanning a QR code located around the premises for Test & Protect. If you are unable to use the QR code a member of staff will take your details;
- Customers should be seated to eat and/or drink. Drinking and/or eating at the bar is not permitted at this time;
- Hand sanitiser stations will be located at various points around the premises, we ask that you make use of these facilities throughout your visit;
- When washing your hands, please use the soap provided and wash for a minimum of 20 seconds each time;
- When a customer departs, their table will be left for five minutes prior to clearing, cleaning and disinfecting prior to the next customer arriving;
- The bar and restaurant are deep cleaned daily;
- Whilst some customers are more comfortable with contactless and card payments, please rest assured that cash is also acceptable.

Thank you for your cooperation.
